As a leading manufacturer of reusable plastic home products, we feel a great responsibility to contribute to a sustainable society, as well as to inform about reusable and recycled plastics.

A SUSTAINABLE APPROACH

Plastic has many qualities because it can be designed and shaped freely, and because it is both hygienic in use and has a long lifespan. When handled the right way, plastic can be less damaging to produce than most other comparable products. However, as a designer and manufacturer of plastic home products, the most important task is to focus on how plastic products are to be utilized optimally. This includes having a sustainable approach throughout the entire supply chain.

At Plast Team, we have for many years worked purposefully to utilize the strengths of plastic materials and at the same time minimize the challenges that are associated with production, distribution, and use. We have come a long way on that journey, and we see it as an ongoing effort where we always strive to improve and enhance the design of our products.

Our overall approach to sustainability is not something that can be divided into small bits, but it must be thought of together as a holistic concept for the entire supply chain.

OUR PHILOSOPHY INCLUDES AREAS SUCH AS:

Products designed for reuse and recycling

Use of innovative, recycled materials

Warehousing close to the markets for minimal transport

Comprehensive safety, product, and material testing

Minimization of packaging needed for the products

A sustainable approach in product development

OUR PRODUCTS ARE DESIGNED FOR REUSE AND RECYCLING

We believe that plastic should be kept in a circular economy, where it can be reused, recycled, or composed. In our product development process, we always consider the safety, quality, and environmental impacts, and it is our duty to communicate the sustainable properties of our products.

Our products have a long-lasting durability, and all products are designed for reuse, which is a very important feature as reusing plastic products reduce waste and the demand for new plastics to be created. More specifically, our products are made of monomaterial and can be used again and again. If the products need to be replaced after many years of use, they are easy to disassemble and recycle. Furthermore, we set high test requirements in relation to chemicals for all our products.

By reusing products, we are all taking responsibility for our environmental footprint. By focusing on the recycling advantage and at the same time securing that our products are easy to reuse, we contribute further to a sustainable plastic production.

*“Our target is that by 2030,
90% of our raw material consumption must come from recycled materials.”*

Our target is that by 2030, 90% of our raw material consumption must come from recycled materials. We are already on our way to reach our target, but as the rest of the industry, we are facing challenges because of the limited options currently available. Developments in technology and systems for collecting, sorting and reusing recyclable plastics have and are still creating new possibilities for recycling. However, there are still improvements to be made and several external factors play a big part, including getting food approval for recycled plastics.

ACTING AGILE

At Plast Team we are proud of our product assortment and we believe each product tells its own story. Our products will always be designed to reuse, and we will also continue to produce products that contain recycled plastic. Our choice of material and production methods must always be considered from a perspective of reducing the pressure on natural resources. Generally, we strive to optimize the entire supply chain to diminish climate change risk.

We always focus on sustainable agile product development, where sustainable product goals are set, and the right level of development procedures and practices are set to be able to meet the targets. We respond positively to change, and we continue to deliver innovative and recyclable product designs that meet the needs of our customers and consumers. Our functional products are built to secure high durability, making it possible for our consumers to keep them for a long time.

EASILY RECYCLABLE

Plastic material must be carefully handled, and it should be recycled, as recycling plastic takes less energy than plastic made from virgin materials. However, this requires that the possibilities for recycling have been considered from the very beginning of the lifecycle of a new product. At Plast Team, we have always introduced products that are produced in pure materials, which makes it possible for each product to be recycled once its lifetime is over. This means that the product is produced in only one type of plastic, making it possible to melt it down and bring it back to life as a new product. Most of our products are made in PP (polypropylene), which is easily recyclable.

Being committed to driving a circular economy, we always strive to improve ourselves. Besides our continuous effort to produce smarter product designs that promote reusability and recycling, we also produce products made from recycled- and post-consumer recycled plastics.

Not only do we design products that are made in pure plastic, making them easy to recycle, but we also focus on the leftover waste from the factory. The post-industrial waste is waste generated during the production process of a product, and this is how our Avedøre Waste Management system, to name an example, has been created. Due to the sorting and regrinding process, the color of the products is black, but still features a high-quality.

Furthermore, we recently introduced our Akita storage bucket, which is a product series made from post-consumer recycled plastics, which is recycled plastics made from household garbage. This way, we strive to take on a leading role in the process of reducing waste.

Every product will be labeled with one of the sustainability symbols making it easy to recognize their origin.

RECYCLABLE

All parts of our products are made from a single plastic material. Easy to separate and use for production of new products.

RECYCLED PLASTIC

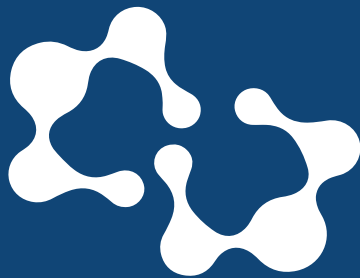

Products produced from the plastic waste left behind from other productions. The waste is gathered and put in re-production of new, high-quality products.

POST-CONSUMER RECYCLED PLASTIC

Products with this label are made up of plastic waste collected from the end consumers home and given new life in the shape of a new, high-quality product.

Biomaster

PROTECTED

DESIGNED TO PROTECT PRODUCTS

Today, it is more important than ever to secure a clean and safe home and to be protected against harmful bacteria. Therefore, we have introduced anti-bacterial products. This means that we have added an anti-bacterial material, called Biomaster, to some of our existing storage boxes, kitchen utensils and food storage boxes. This material provides clean products and fast, effective, and long-lasting product protection. This way you are secured a 24/7 protection against the growth of harmful bacteria.

This is only possible due to our corporation with Addmaster (UK), a global leader when it comes to supplying technically innovative premium quality additives for several industries, including the plastic industry. One of Addmaster's key technologies include this Biomaster antimicrobial technology.

At Plast Team, we decided to add Biomaster to some of our existing and most popular storage boxes, including the Home Box, Probox, Basic Box and Hobby Box series. We have also introduced the material to some of our kitchen and food storage products, including cutting boards and our popular Airtight series.

The laundry baskets come in two variations; a corner basket and an oval basket. They come in two colors.

CAMPAIGN

CAMPAIGN

Up until now we have introduced our Standard Assortment. All these items are by default available on stock in the colors presented in the defined categories.

However, that is not all we can offer. In addition to the Standard Assortment we have our campaign items. These items are not on stock by default and the molds will only be in production following orders meeting special requirement.

All the campaign items have individual MOQ (minimum order quantities) and will need case by case approval from Plast Team management. These special requirements and reservations also include color choice, cost price, lead-time and packaging.

We are confident that the combination of our standard and campaign assortment will meet most household needs within our four categories.
